Red dress, red nails your thoughts light-dark conspire
I brim with health and a longing that won't expire
Until it's done but we both can barely walk
And then we'll run and spit in the face of dawn

Vampire lessons starting now
I need a companion to stalk the night
Vampire lessons starting now
I know I shouldn't but it's on

Swiftly unveiled at last I am myself
No retinue cataloguing my moral decline
To know you knew and felt this same hot rage
I nearly screamed then taking you in my arms

Vampire lessons starting now
I'll have you whole or not at all
Vampire lessons starting now
Get on the floor and be yourself

I'll call you in the night and we'll go all the way
It can't go on like this but there's no other way
Someday we'll be free
Until then there's this

I'm not a toy or a hobby you can pick up
But I enjoy being in this body for now

Vampire lessons starting now
Pretty soon it's gonna be for real
Vampire lessons starting now
It works until you start to feel
