A time that's for myself, i know just what i've done and there's no reprieve so i'll always run awakened from the dark, i hold it in my heart the secrets that we keep, my aching soul must sleep i know just how you feel, the way i'm fucked up here but still i can't reveal the emptiness i fear i cannot find a way, i think i'm past that day where there's no return, when will i ever learn?

i'm holding on... i'm holding on,
to a hope less broken let's watch the days go on, forget all that we've known and as the sun goes down you'll laugh at all we've done just drink it all away, you'll forget every day and as your life goes by, you'll laugh until you cry.

i'm holding on... i'm holding on,
to a life less broken...
