hello am i speaking to someone who isn't real? it's fallen all apart and the truth must be revealed with all that's done you know you've hurt me too with all I do there's nothing here for you. you'd like me to think that i've become neurotic it's all the same to you when you are so psychotic well i dont know if there's much more that i can do when all I do's just not enough for you hello am i speaking to someone who cannot feel? you've broken the trust between us and still expect me to heal from all the words you threw right in my face from all the words you'll break me with today you'd like me to think that i am so inferior and still you want me to look beyond these fears well i don't know if there's much more for you than all i am and all i cannot do Say it again like you know that it's over my head Say it again, make me feel like you wanted me dead

Say it again like you know that you're over say it again make me feel that I'm under just say it again don't you do it again, no Say it again and I'm running for cover hello am i speaking to someone who understands? it's fallen all apart and the blood is on your hands with all that's done you know it's over soon cause all i am is not enough for you and i'm running...
