"All is Fair"

Man as a beast came down from the trees

Crawling around, spread his disease.

Up on the rocks, playing with fire,

Inventing his needs to quench the desire.

Blood on his hands, love on his mind,

Hell as a future, leaving heaven way behind.

CHORUS:

All is fair in love and war

Kiss me you fool it's love that we're all dying for.

All is fair in love and war

Head for the hills who knows what all this fighting's for?

Man is a beast.

Shame at the feast, too much to eat

Throw out the waste at the beggar's bare feet

Aim for the moon, shooting the stars

Insanity roaming the streets, but the sane drive new cars.

Blood on his hands, love on his mind

Selling the future, the debts are left behind

CHORUS
