You make me laugh
You make me smile
You make my time seem worthwhile

When will you see?
There is more to me
Than ignorance
I have independence

You don't treat me bad,
You don't make me sad

You make me laugh
You make me smile
You make my time seem worthwhile

You will catch me when I fall
I won't even have to call
You will take my hand
To the floor I will not land
Because I have you
To see me through
Until the end, my friend

You made me laugh you made me smile you made my time seem worthwhile.

Years have past since I have seen you
I have had nothing to do except think about you
Do you still remember me?
Or am I a distant memory

I never really told you
Im completely in love with you
I never had the confidence
I could not have finished the sentence
Anyway
