"A Flood"

Let it come to pieces, let it die,
Let it fall, A flood will come here anyway.
Just put off decisions if you most,
As the lips, flicker back to life again.

Come another centery full of dust,
Don't explain.
Just call me when your off the plane.

Come December don't be cruel,
Come this senseless train of thought,
Come the weekend we'll get lost,
Just in time to get caught in, the rain.

So hold out your name card let it fall,
Let it dive, A flood will come here anyway.

Come December don't be cruel,
Come this senseless train of thought,
Come the weekend we'll get lost,
Just in time to get caught in, the rain.

Powder houses start to leak, so precariously,
When the pavements start to crack,
As minutes fall to the floor,
If we spend it all at once, We've won.

Come December don't be cruel,
Come this senseless train of thought,
Come the weekend we'll get lost,
Just in time to get caught in, the rain.

So hold out your raincoat, let it fall,
Let it dive, A flood will come here anyway.
