Remember, i made this promise and the sun is almost down and tomorrow you'll be gone look around all those dreams are avoid you have so many chances but you are playing the same choice this is what I belong

We need to run
we're growing up And the city lights stay and and the record turn as well

And everything fallin' around and your friends are still the same but you always get the best

And if I leave this town realize that stay awake is hard and that i'm always the same guy I wake up
I always hit the ground I have so many chances but i am playing the same choice
