Ooh, it's said and done, ooh, I'm not the only one
How was I to know? No one told me so
I just landed here and struggled to get by Nothing much to see, oh, so naive
And then it hit me like it has 1,000 times

Then one day soon, it's gonna happen to you
And when it does, it won't be pretty
Then one day soon, it's gonna happen to you
And when it does

Ooh, it's said and done, ooh, I'm not the only one
How was I to see, the only difference is me?
To think that holding steady hands would do just fine
One day you'll agree that you are truer to yourself
Than anyone of us will ever be

Then one day soon, it just might happen to you
And when it does, it won't be pretty
Then one day soon, it's gonna happen to you
And when it does, it won't be pretty

Then one day soon, it's gonna happen to you
And when it does, oh no, it won't be pretty
And then one day soon, it's gonna happen to you
And when it does, I won't be there
And I won't be anywhere 'cause

Then one day soon, it's gonna happen to you
And when it does, it won't be pretty
And then one day soon, it's gonna happen to you
And when it does, I know it won't be pretty

And then one day soon, it's gonna happen to you
And when it does, when it does, when it does
And when it does, when it does, when it does
Then one day soon, it's gonna happen to you
And when it does, I won't be there
