(N. Finn/T. Finn)
news travels fast
there's an old wreck in
the underpass
wine in a glass
and a well travelled bed
down the length and breadth of the motorway
down the information highway I took a ride in an
angels heap
and she took me away to where the hills are steep
yes I took a ride
in the still mind of a child there's a live bird on her shoulder
she could swallow a lie
like she's drinking a flagon
of beer
I'll never be the same again let the black wheels fly over I took a ride in an
angels heap
and she took me away to where
the air was sweet
and she made me come alive in a red vinyl seat
yeah I took a ride
