When I move
You move with me
I feed off you
You feast on me

And what I see
You can not see
That when I move
You move with me

Where's this small dead hand that creeps me
I am biting it to its very bone Collapsing with everything new on me until it gets so very old

And what I see
You can not see
That when I move
You move with me

There is this third body spinning fast reducing me into a relapse
with its crippled flaps slow motion dims
sweetly parasited
by butterfly wings

And what I see
You can not see
That when I move
You move with me

All that is old is new again (To be) each other spies
we're condemned
Everything is everywhere
The butterfly effect

And what I see
You can not see
I will have to kill you Before you kill me

Everything is everywhere
The butterfly effect
