For that viper that grows inside your head she remains there waiting to be fed self made parasite speculating about the end

I ask you
Can you forgive her?

Back into the womb of this holy woman else pregnant of an entire breed of men afraid to create, to take place and to proceed

I ask you
Can you forgive them?

They promised me a miracle
a private god for me to hold

Can you forgive me?

They promised me a miracle
someone to really love

Can you forgive me?
Your handmade god
is back into your womb

Is it right to indulge on an ecstasy of creating a god that sees what I see, looks exactly like me, rather what I wanted to be

Can you forgive me?

For that viper that grew inside my head for having betrayed you so well

Can you forgive me?

They promised me a miracle
when all my crimes will be just one but now is gone
They promised me a miracle.
Back to your womb it feels so cold.
