Lay down, let's start a family
Lay my fears and my failures
To rest, (you can't sleep)
No more dreams, (you can't see your future)

You'll lie awake waiting for your moment
To shine, (you can't waste) precious time
Just waiting

Weighed down by the fears of our fathers can't stop us
now
Because
Waking up with the road moving under our feet
Is what moves us

Lay down, you're almost dead now
You're getting older, we're getting colder
You're moving out
You'll trade your six string for a family
And a desk
And I don't blame you for giving up
I don't blame you for giving up

Weighed down by the fears of our fathers can't stop us
Because
Waking up with the road moving under our feet

Weighed down by the fears of our fathers can't stop us
Because
Waking up with the road moving under our feet
Is what moves us
