"What To Say"

The very first time I saw you
I felt something deep inside
I wanted to say something to you
But my shyness made me hide
So I tried to get your attention
And walked in your direction
Hoped you would've noticed me
'Cause baby, we were meant to be

Boy, I wish you would be mine
Been watching you all the time
Wanting you to look my way
But I don't know what to say
When I look into your eyes
Then I start to realize
I wanna tell you everyday
But I don't know what to say

You're in my thoughts all the time
These feelings I can't describe
I can't get you out of my mind
No matter how hard I've tried
Time goes by so slowly
Wondering if you even know me
How much longer can I handle this
Waiting for your touch, your love, your kiss

Boy, I wish you would be mine
Been watching you all the time
Wanting you to look my way
But I don't know what to say
When I look into your eyes
Then I start to realize
I wanna tell you everyday
But I don't know what to say

Now I finally understand
How to let my feelings go
I'll take you by the hand
But there's one thing I need to know
What will you say

Boy, I wish you would be mine
Been watching you all the time
Wanting you to look my way
But I don't know what to say
When I look into your eyes
Then I start to realize
I wanna tell you everyday
But I don't know what to say
