There's black ice in your blue eyes
Calling me to pull the trigger.
If it's a good night for us to replay,
Call all you have inside to witness.

Some would put the blame on you.

Desperately fearing
For confidently dreaming of you.
When all you have to do is love.
I won't escape the feeling,
For confidently dreaming of you.
When all you have to do is love.

Take a short trip or a long ride,
Whatever gets me off the fault line.
If it's a good day for us to end this,
I'll take the stand and plead forgiveness.

There's forces under the floor
To pull us down into a hole.
Long after I've gone away,
You're coming back for something more.
