Be Your Own Hero Â© 2009 Frederick Roussel

I tried the Bat Signal when I was five
Batman never came
So I decide to be my own hero that day

Be your own hero now baby
Caus I can't save your life
I can't always be there to win all your fights
Be your own hero now baby
There's too many villains now
I can't possibly fight em all
You got to learn somehow

The people downstairs were never right
The people downstairs used to argue and fight
The people downstairs used to wake on up
But I was already there ah
Sitting in front of a TV screen
Superheros were everywhere

Be your own hero now baby
Caus I can't save your life
I can't always be there to win all your fights
Be your own hero now baby
There's too many villains now
I can't possibly fight em all
You got to learn somehow

I don't have no answers for you
I don't have no answers for you
I don't have no answers for you
Baby don't have no answers for you
You went and saw a million faces today
All of them were broken at some stage
All of the babies gonna cry on their first day
All of the best things were born out of pain
I don't have no answers for you
I don't have no answers for you
