Yazarah, [Phonte] My love is gone with Yesterday [My love is gone with Yesterday] My love is gone with Yesterday [My love is gone with Yesterday] [Yazarah] We had a love for all seasons At least its how it used to be There was no time, space or reason More special to us than we My love continue to flourish As a flower blooms in spring Then you tried to play love for silly But the loser is the fool Who doesnt play love by the rules If she breaks your heart I will send a robin to sing happy tunes for you Cause I may not be around To do the things I used to do And if you awake to find youre lost I will send a glad star to lead you on your way Cause the love I felt inside Has gone away with yesterday Yazarah, [Phonte] My love is gone with Yesterday [My love is gone with Yesterday] My love is gone with Yesterday [My love is gone with Yesterday] [Yazarah] There was a time when forever Was common-place for me and you Laughing, loving, sharing, caring Seemed to be made just for us two But I kept on building the dream world That I thought was you and I Sorry, I'm sadly mistaken Cause our castle in the sky Has turned into a mere goodbye If she breaks your heart I will send a robin to sing happy tunes for you Cause I may not be around to do the things I used to do And if you awake to find you're lost I will send a glad star to lead you on your way Cause the love I felt inside Has gone away with yesterday Cause the love I felt inside Has gone away with yesterday [Phonte] Love is gone with yesterday x8 *ad libs to the end*
