Another time another place

The lonely streets where we embrace

When you would go without a trace

Nothing's the same without you

Another day is passing by

I sit alone and wonder why

Sometimes it's hard but I will try

To live my life without you

You're in my heart and in my dreams

You're everywhere and so it seems

So many times I've heard that so hold back the tears that harm you some

Another day goes slowly by

I sit alone and wonder why

I think of you and start to cry

Nothing's the same without you

Another time another place

The sweetness of a last embrace

What would I give to see your face

Nothing's the same without you
