Lets watch the sky tonight focused on just one star, i hope mine doesn't shine where you are. i waved goodbye to you, staging a smile on your face, and pretending the sun, it won't stay. the sun won't stay, anymore.

One more goodbye song, i'll sing for everyday that you're gone from me, i'm too far gone, you won't be back in my arms where you thought you'd be forever, forever.

Lets make this short i don't mean everything that i say, but you had to believe me that day. i think to myself, if she's looking up too, but yet again you'd just ruin the view, wouldn't you?

One more goodbye song, i'll sing for everyday that you're gone from me, cause i'm too far gone, you won't be back in my arms where you thought you'd be forever.

We're holding back if it makes you feel any better. it's kept inside, this is all i feel from torn up letters. watch me drift away, you always thought i would be back someday, for now i'm gone, for now i'm gone.
