"The Blood Opens Gateways"

Into the shadows
of the fallen ones
led by the virtue to form a thousand suns

The slaughter was unseen for eyes not yet groomed to such a display red was the colour of their grief death was the mother of them all divine space confined lords of the ring expelled born as the fire blazed feared as the carnage raged walking further growing weaker untold murder hidden deeper

to shrines of earthly gods feasting on the crimson of souls inherent lost
