Now you're fighting because you found another reason to corrupt the youth with pills and booze and all the other lies and remedies for a good conversation where someone's left down and out, with no other way out but the worst i'm trying to make a point so take your fingers out of your ears and just listen without a doubt, i'm finding out there's more to life just for once, take it into consideration that i'm not the only one doing things wrong it took a while for you to realize, and you're only halfway there, you're a hero in your own mind
