

Fully Down "Cost Of Comfort"

Visit "Cost Of Comfort" on MotoLyrics.com

Ringing in my ear, ringing in my ear...

And so they it's times like these Where silence can mean everything (everything and nothing)
And I'm pleading with my heart into this empty glass for reasons
Tryin' to get myself away from

You say you don't believe
But I know exactly what you're thinkin'

Screams so familiar
One of a million
It's time we move on

Why do we always think we need to sell ourselves the dream
That love is all we need?
Romance causes ignorance
We're selling out
Selling ourselves short

I never said that I would wait for you,
Wait for you to save yourself
But I want you to know
I'm not as strong as I thought I was and the thought of you keeps
Ringing in my ear, ringing in, in my ear

I know you won't believe
But I can still see through you
Was it worth this?

Screams so familiar
One of a million
It's time we move on

Why do we always think we need to sell ourselves the
dream
That love is all we need?
Romance causes ignorance

We're selling out
Selling ourselves...short

Life in motion
Slowing down in our wake
We're all alone

Why do we always think we need to sell ourselves the
dream
That love is all we need?

Why do we always think we need to sell ourselves the
dream
That love is all we need?
Romance causes ignorance
We're selling out
Selling ourselves short
Selling ourselves
Selling ourselves

Why do we always think we need to sell ourselves the
dream
That love is all we need?
Romance causes ignorance
We're selling out
We're selling out

Visit Fully Down page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.