Another time is coming forward memories flood your mind

Try to forget all the pain

Feeling lost and undecided torn and so abused

Sign it all away and in time it will come back to you

CHORUS:

Dark mirror dream too many and too few reflects an image in your mind

Dark mirror dream it's a question put to you

The answer will be known just give it time

My sleep is stained and this feeling just won't change

Pain can be so real when you're alone

An iron chain will it ever let me go

Freedom's just a dream I'll never know

CHORUS

It all seems so distant now memories always fade

Sometimes to leave subtle gray

I'll never get to relive that day gone forever now

One lesson past and I know that it won't be my last
