Visit "Out From The Shadows" on MotoLyrics.com

You've seen me before my friend my face is etched in stone

An image reappearing in your mind

My life has been an open book but still you'll never know

The reason I have come for you this time

CHORUS:

In the burning daylight you'll see the truth is oh so clear
But in the falling twilight you will begin to quake with fear

Out from the shadows it comes for you, there's only a moment to pray

Hiding in darkness I'll wait for you, your soul is the price that you'll pay

So many lifetimes I have known so many tortured souls

Repentance such a petty price to pay

My blood has spilled a million times for no apparent cause

The journey of a lifetime gone astray

CHORUS

Now my friend the time has come to hear the piper's call

Can you figure out which way to turn

With these final words I speak the meaning not so clear

Is my quest in vain or will you burn
