

Good The Bad & The Queen "Kingdom Of Doom"

Visit "Kingdom Of Doom" on MotoLyrics.com

Friday night in the Kingdom of Doom
Oh, ravens fly across the moon
All in now, there's a noise in the sky
Following all the rules and not asking why

When the sunset will begins
Turning into the night
I see everything in black and white and then

Drink all day 'cos the country's at war
You will be falling on the palace wall
I can't be anymore than I say
In the flood, you'll get washed away

When the sunset will begins
Turning into the night
I see everything in black and white become

A love song for the collaboration
You and me will never be undone
We'll let it blow away
