jessica stop looking at me we both know close is just a curious gesture i know that distance has no reason i can't feel my feet on the ground your my prozac without the side affects and my prescriptions running out cant forget the time we spent the late night coffee, the philosophy tests the way you feel, the way you smell the morning we slept in, the love i felt its funny how time can get the best of you(3 X's) its funny how time can really suck homeless man was looking at me he said he was a viet nam veteran his dreams are filled with deamons now and to think he's the outsider fighting for a freedom thats not existent this countrys time is running out cant forget the hate we bread the lynching of blacks, or Malcolm X the history books, false documentation all to save, this fucked up nation its funny how time can get the best of you (3 X's)
its funny how time can suck
