I see shells
I see shells
I see shells and sand
What are they made of?
The sun comes up, shines on my true love
Silver light on water formations
So watch it from here with the other crustaceans
The sand goes on
All I can see is shells
Does anybody remember how to get back home?
Hey, over there! Is that a man or a crazed monkey?
The playground is loud
No one's sure, what's that screaming?
Bodies so sad
Never sure, always dreaming
Get warm, get rings of wealth or engagement
Get yourself into a special arrangement
Boys are turning into men
Sons raised on sugar and whitebread
How can you help a man?
With a crazed monkey in his head
Eyes are popping, faces turning red
What is the difference between animals and men?
Let's watch these dogs
They're so surreal
See how they glide across the field
See how they smile when they kill
See how their jaws go numb
And they can't feel the game
You look like a map of the universe
You can be anything
I can see everything in what you are
Point in the cosmos, a man and a star
Reaching far and becoming more dense
You can make sense in the material world
Boy and a girl, a dazzling swirl
A point we can trace backwards to where we begun
Infinite - that's us! Repeat number one
So we're not listening to what anyone says
I know what's me, you know you
And the TV cannot take us
Words could never shake us

Teachers try to teach us
Their words could never reach us
State wants to raise us
But will not make us crazy like he Hey, over there! Is that a boy or a monkey in a t-shirt?
Oh, that's just an old bag blowing in the wind
What is the difference between animals and men?
What's the difference between a piece of garbage and a man?
Let's watch these men
They're so unreal
See how some were born to kill
See how some were born to feel
See how rotting mouths and royal kisses
Bullets words - hits and misses
The truth will tell you that it's all the same, I know!
I see shells and sand
What are they made of?
The sun goes down, shines on my true love
Silver light in space formations
So watch it from here with stranded crustaceans
The Earth is cold
All I can see is shells
Icy shells
Icy shells
Icy shells
Icy shells
