Well the check's in the mail, might get there by Monday
And I got two children, I might see them one day
And I keep on drinking even though I quit
Sobriety'd be fine if I got the hang of it

And I done things I ain't told nobody
A heart once peaceful and dry has turned muddy
And perfection's nowhere in sight

Chorus:
Everything is all right
Everything is all right

So the snow starts to falling somewhere around midnight
But I ain't driving so I guess I'm all right
And I got a letter today from an old friend
And he told me he was a single man again.

And I got people and places to choose
The size of my women, the price of my booze
And who I'll go home with tonight

Chorus

Well I got some sad regrets
Things I won't soon forget
But I'll still sail to the sunset
Tonight

Chorus
