I am sitting here in class, just thinking of you, wondering how you are, since you are so blue, I can't help but think that your all alone, sittin there at home, in your bed, watchin a movie while eating kettle corn, I hope you come back soon cause I miss you so much, I miss your hugs and kisses, and the way you talked to me, it kinda sounded like dutch, so please hurry back, cause I love you so much.

Sittin here at school, being bored all day, wishing you were here, so we can go outside and play, ya, lookin through da textbooks, every class period, but it's reall hard for me cause everytime I turn a page I see you times three.

I am sittin here chillin, like a billin, wondering when you'll be home, so I can play my games and start killin, like world of war craft or mortal combat, I am goin to beat you up, until your face turns white, and I'll be smackin you around like kimbo slice, son, I'll come at you like an angry dog, tearin you up, into mini bite size peices.

Sittin here at school, being bored all day, wishing you were here, so we can go outside and play, ya, lookin through da textbooks, every class period, but it's really hard for me cause everytime I turn a page I see you times three.
