Big earth's extensions
Covered by what once
Were free man
And now they're only dust
The mud still keeps some bone
As a relic of their lifes [lifes lifes lifes]

A living shadow dwells keeping cool the memories
smell
Only shadow, the void that it feels fill it
His lacking eyes of view and colour don't cry anymore
Sky does for them

His teared voice by the anguish screams
Is still heard in the distance
Maybe confused with the brutal language
Of the hurricane rage
How many times it confronted Against devastation and it won? [won...]

Days pass by surrounded by fierceness and cruelty Of sadness and regret the hate and the pain walk along
With him, protecting him, agressing him, strenghting the fear
To continue in the grave of existence Interiority's hades, reason of death is what he needs to keep resisting

To keep tolerating the arbitrariness of daily's suffering

To live in death
To die in life
To freeze the blood to burn the rancour that draw his veins
To burn the body and freeze the mind where immortality's remembrance will remain
[will remain]

To live in death
To die in life
To freeze the blood to burn the rancour that draw his

veins
To burn the body and freeze the mind where
immortality's remembrance will remain
[will remain]

A living shadow dwells keeping cool the memories
Only shadow, the void that it feels fill it
His lacking eyes of view and colour don't cry anymore
Sky does for them

His teared voice by the anguish screams
Is still heard in the distance
Maybe confused with the brutal language
Of the hurricane rage
How many times it confronted
Against devastation and it won?
