Lately, I can hardly sleep.
Days are getting longer and colder.
It's raining, there's no one in the street.
Two more weeks it's over,
But I still sing the same song...
But I still sing the same song...

Time, take me away
'Cause I can't fight anymore
Time, take me away
'Cause I can barely hold on

I look outside the window, but it all looks the same
I know we'll be heading home soon,
But I still sing the same song...
But I still sing the same song...

Time take me away
'Cause I can't fight anymore.
Time take me away
'Cause I can barely hold on.

And after all these miles
I'm getting closer to you
And after all this time
I'm getting closer to you
We're in this together,
We see our city lights burn and now I know
I'm getting closer to you
We're in this together,
We're in this forever

When your life goes wrong, you got to be strong
Just hold on, hold on
When life is not easy, you got to hold on,
Just hold on, hold on

Time take me away
'Cause I can't fight anymore.
Time take me away
'Cause I can barely hold on.
