All the day I thought of this moment of happiness longing to see you, cut you and breathe you in
I thought I wouldn't miss a thing and all that I wanted was to cut your face in two.
Do you believe in me?, do you believe
in these dreams I tell you?
don't be afraid of this twisted thoughts I share
with you
In every word I said, in every cross I beared
for you I've seen it.
In every sting I took for you, in everything we left undone I've seen it.
I thought I wouldn't miss a thing and all that I wanted was to cut your face in two.
Do you believe in me?, do you believe
in these dreams I tell you?
don't be afraid of this twisted thoughts I share
with you.
I will not scream without you, and I will not run without you.
Do you believe in me?, do you believe
in these dreams I tell you?
don't be afraid of these twisted thoughts I share
with you
