Leviathans from my bed everything is spinning around my head in the ceiling there is a hole a black nothing wants me to come
I believe that all our fantasies becomes real in the void and in our dreams
I embark the cimmerician skies and I see a man with flagrant eyes
I penetrate his empty shell he is the oracle of hell I believe that all our fantasies becomes real I believe in evil dreams
Out in the silence of death into the palace of darkness is this a dream where I die In this emptiness I fly my memories begin to fade
I don't remember who I am I was and now I am again
Out in the silence of death into the palace of darkness
reincarnation new life
