Stop, you're out of control,
Let's end this god forsaken game.
Not a moment to spare,
Your life is going up in flames.

Bout to self-destruct,
I'm here to save you from your pain.
You are running on rage,

Your life is heading for disaster,
You're in a war that you can't win.
It is adrenaline, that,
Keeps you from giving in.

You're, at your breaking point,
Your needle's sinking in the red.
Just about to overload,
It's all coming to and end.

Leave no stone unturned,
You search for something you can't find.
Take your memories,
and leave them all behind.

Your life is heading for disaster,
You're in a war that you can't win.
It is adrenaline, that,
Keeps you from giving in.

They say that you won't live forever,
When you think that you're at the end.
It is adrenaline, that,
Keeps you from giving in.
