The rain falls down I see you through
Wrighting my name in the sand
You are laughing all the time the sun
The sun shines wherever you stand
Shades of truth carry me back
Away from a million memories
Along a way of pain of fate
Into this place of reality

And you have been so sweet
And you ahve been so proud
And now you are gone
Gone without a sound
In silence you closed your eyes
And never opened them again

On the verge of tears I watched you picture
Slowly it fades away
Remembering of the days you were in my arms
Keep in mind for the rest of my days
Maybe at this time you touch the stars
Maybe you watchin' us everywhere
Your photo in my pocket everywhere I go
In this way I show that I still care ...

And you have been so sweet
And you have been so proud
And now you are gone
Gone without a sound
In silence you closed your eyes
And never opened them again
