She burns rainbows,
dipped in wine.
I sell boats to sail in rain
She brings me paper fish,
from the bottom of the sea...
and she gives them to me.
I hang a picture,
to spoil the view.
She sells cameras just for fun
She brings me silver tongues,
from the bottom of the bed...
and she gives them to me to me.

Fell off a Mountain tryin' to climb up to your heart
Burnt all my fingers tryin' to set light to your car
This is no Ordinary Madness in my heart
Fell off a Mountain tryin' to climb up to your heart
...Look at me now!

She wears seagulls,
in her hair.
I make fishing nets and lines
She brings me desert sand,
from the bottom of the bed...
and she gives them to me to me.

Fell off a Mountain tryin' to climb up to your heart
Burnt all my fingers tryin' to set light to your car
This is no Ordinary Madness in my heart
Fell off a Mountain tryin' to climb up to your heart
...Look at me now!
