Somewhere in the vack of my mind there's a picture of you
Falling like a Stone from a cliff, What a beautiful view.
Wonder if the ships in the night know where they're going?
Never knowing where they belong.
We better not sail away, We better not go.
We better not Fade away.

Calling from a Strange Land
Trying to make you understand
Promises of Mystery
Come in to my heart
Could I be a Free Man
Livin' in a Foreign Land
Nothing left but Memories
I tore it all apart
Shooting from my Heart

Looking at a colourful past from a room with a view
Fighting for a word in a book, that I know isn't true.
Screaming for the right to be heard, but never winning Drowning in an Ocean of Blue.
We better not sail away, We better not go.
We better not Fade away.

Calling from a Strange Land
Trying to make you understand
Promises of Mystery
Come in to my heart
Could I be a Free Man
Livin' in a Foreign Land
I tore it all apart
Shooting from my Heart
