This time I won't give the answer
This time I won't help along
I gave more than I should give, still -
You just pretend that you are strong

But who should believe in your words?
You ask for reasons until it hurts
When will you be on your own?
You got a problem, man!

Cause you keep shakin' like a tambourine, tambourine
Why don't you try just to give everything, everything
And you keep shakin' like a tambourine - all your way down

Aou may think you've lost your best friend
But I tell you that ain't true
I just want to make things clear now:
Some things must be up to you!

But who should believe in your words?
You ask for reasons until it hruts
When wil you be on your own?
You got a problem, man!
