Behind the sweet
Summer fade
And on a coast
Not Far away

Sometimes we glide
Sometimes we fall
And there are times
We don't get up at all

You had your doubts
We had our rows
Said our goodbyes but
Now we're taking vows

Behind the sweet
Summer fade
You'll knock me down
Like a tidal wave

I should be gone
Cast away
But still I'd love you
Through all peace and hate

In light of all
Darkest things
The fire glimmers
And the darkness sings

If you should go
I won't have you to blame
For my unhappiness for darker days
When will I learn
It's not your fault
Breaking down could not
Be cured by breaking up
Cause breaking down could not
Be cured by breaking up

I should be gone

Cast away
But still I'd love you
Through all peace and hate

In light of all
Darkest things
The fire glimmers
And the darkness sings

Forever more
Peace and hate
Love and war
Declare a new state

Forever more
Peace and hate
Love and war
Declare a new state

Yell and shout and kick me out
Then forget what we fought about
But don't give up
These storms are passing

Yell and shout and kick me out
Then forget what we fought about
But don't give up
This storm is passing
