I've resolved upon this course, which has no need of you

Denying this day, didn't stop it from coming Promise me, that you won't be consumed when you realize

We're screaming at the same moon

Shredded by state lines Press my face up against the glass With both eyelids shut and baby, this won't get any easier
baby, this won't get any easier
baby, this won't get any easier

Don't let this die, we may never fall in love again
It's hard but worth the wait when it's over
...this die, we may never fall in love again
It's hard but worth the wait when it's over

Now open up wide, fist first down your throat Where no beauty lies, and rip out what should've been mine

Comfort always made the rescue, we always hoped 'for the best'
I'll burn this with torches, and drown in my consideration

I'll burn this with torches, and drown in my
consideration
