Step forth lean into the storm and don't look back
I'm hot on your heels and about to attack
See the sky streaming downward its on your head
Lean back to avoid the conflict you're better off dead

You will never be safe
You will never be clean
You will never be strong enough for me
Can't you see it is written
I'm your destiny

Sink deeper into the flood of isolation
My temptation riddles your mind fuels all frustration
Lip hooked line and sinker its sealed your fate
Try to run little boy its all too late

You will never be safe
You will never be clean
You will never be strong enough for me
Can't you see it is written
I'm your destiny

Why do you run
Why do you hide
When what you run from lives inside
It is me can't you see
Get on your knees

Feels like you're running backwards when the chase is on
You seem to lead the way but you're not that strong
Two steps right behind and your legs sieze
Just like a fucking nightmare stuck on repeat

Full cricle a round again of hide and seek
I'm it and i'm the way so run you freak
When you lose yes I said when we'll play again
Hide my eyes in my hands and count to ten

You will never be safe
You will never be clean
You will never be strong enough for me

Can't you see it is written
I'm your destiny

Why do you run
Why do you hide
When what you run from lives inside
It is me can't you see
Get on your knees
