Pardon me, my curiosity is proof of the weaker side of me for what it's worth i try to find a meaning behind all these empty lines you showed me how to believe please take me

hold on hold on.
i know what you're thinking but you know that you're sinking be strong it won't be long you're falling asleep and i need your eyes to be open i'll take a breath and try to write in pen how thankful i truly am and even though i have fallen short of the glory you have decided you still love me now i choose to believe you'll take me and make me everything you want me to be

hold on, hold on

and i know , and i know, what this means to me tonight

you're falling asleep and i need your eyes to be open
