I understand
you thought you could so easily remove the knowledge you recieved
its not what you wanted i'll take the hint i'll take the bet that between the drinks and cigarettes

take it from me
i've been there too
keep your head high and learn to try leave behind all those tears you've cried

examine all the evidence the clues lead straight to common sense
this is no mystery
you're making choices based on lies convince yourself youre doing fine

you know i'll be waiting
when you find yourself
you know i'll waiting waiting for you to say that you missed mee this moment means everything to me
waiting for you to say that you missed me
