Inching closer to me
I can't breathe
Inhale
Renew the air now and breathe

I will not be singled out here
I refuse to take your blame
You're the reason I will never win this stupid game
Let's pretend that I fit in here
Let's pretend our love's okay
If pretending fails then forget you ever knew my name

So, I'm struggling for air again
With these bruises on my face
Didn't think that I would take you down in my own way
All the faces that you're wearing
But I know you never change
You can keep his smile 'cause I'll take my secrets to the grave

That old life
Don't feel mine
Save me now
Save me now
This new life
Feels just fine
Save me now
Save me now
