move towards the light freedom achieved with time uncivilized hands tainted far too deep by a remembrance of the past a product of your world a product of this world will this stain remain will it always be the same a life free from pain cannot exist with all that surrounds vs an example cannot be set of what's right

we can't always rebuild all that has been destroyed i was what you made me peaceful existence denied wash these uncivil hands my statement of life in a dying world i've moved toward the light i've seen it over time uncivilized hands become tainted from my past i find
