Are these the eyes of a madman that see a crumbling sky

Reaching out for the answer please tell me why
In a state of reclusion in a shellshocked mind
Gazing into the darkness that I can't find

Stay calm there's panic all around
Listen to the silence it's so loud
Raise hell who says that I'm insane
Follow let the blindman lead the way

Draining the life from me my ears, they bleed
Twisting each of my dream insanity was born in me
In the chill of a nightmare awake in screaming pain
Bowing down to emotion every nerve in flame
Am I blind to the reason can I really see
Along the path of confusion that's haunting me

Watching time for timeless within a conscious dream
A fading scene of violence what can this mean?
Through a faith in illusion redeem a jaded past
The clawing hands of the clock face they turn so fast
