

Morning Runner "Burning Benches"

Visit "Burning Benches" on MotoLyrics.com

Let us make amends
We're not overly good friends
But it's not heaven without you

You can have it all
We'll see mountains fall
But it's not heaven without you

Let us make amends
We're not overly good friends
But it's not heaven without you

You can have it all
We'll see mountains fall
But it's not heaven without you

It's a symphony distorting
When we're not talking
But it's not heaven without you

And I'm not burning benches
'Cause the ash will make me choke
It was me who always spluttered
Every time we spoke
You can have it all

There's just something different
With the air about you
The signs, the shapes, the numbers
That give me a clue
You can have it all

And I'm not burning benches
'Cause the ash will make me choke
It was me who always spluttered
Oh, every time we spoke, we spoke
You can have it all

Visit Morning Runner page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

