think of all the luck you got know that it's not for naught you were beaming once before but it's not like that anymore count all the moods you've known know they're not stuck in stone you were patient once before

what is this down side
that you speak of what is this feeling
you're so sure of round up the friends you got know that they're not for naught you were willing once before

the time that you would never trade is equal to the effort made you were simple once before

that you speak of

that you speak of
