Nothing has come of these
Enhancing hours
Of talking and talking
Without having said a thing
So I'll be the one to masterfully
Break the ice again
It seems we're getting closer
To falling in
We're drowning with every word said

Can either of us
Distinguish fear from yearning
How clever we are to speak in a place such as this
Speaking of the end
Speaking on our bed
Do these sheets conceal you
Go ahead

And live your dreams
In your embryo sleep
Just gravitate towards me
Shut your mouth
Don't you speak out loud
Let's embrace this sound of silence
