HELL TRAIN

Don't you say
That we're living free with liberties
Wasting time lost in your web of foolish dreams
Don't tell me how I should live cowering in fear
Now I don't mind
Well that you're smiling now
Because we see through you

So I wait here I wait at this station
Because I know someday I'll see you again
It's the truth that's the lie's on the paper
And now you're falling to piece's again

Everything that you say is filled with a false philosophy
I make my stand
On everything that's true to me
Fiendish schemes
Are the truth to you're monopoly
Now I don't mind
That you're smiling now because we see through you

So I wait here I wait at this station
Because I know someday I'll see you again
It's the truth thats the lie's on the paper
And now you're falling to piece's again

ALL ABOARD NOW!

So I wait here I wait at this station
Because I know someday I'll see you again
It's the truth thats the lie's on the paper
And you're falling to pieces again.
Your falling down
