

Honesty

"In The Shadows"

The day will come when you look back and say you gave it all you got,
and you wouldn't have it any other way.
Times like these prove why we live, why we breathe,
and all the things you ever did for me.

You say hold on tightly
as my feet lift off the ground.
Inspiring has brought me
to another level so profound.

I know you need to find a way,
right behind is where I will stay.
In the depths of the shadows you will see a little girl living her dream.
All around you've helped her figure out
this life and what it's all about.
Have you stopped to stare at everything you did for her?

You say hold on tightly
as my feet lift off the ground.
Inspiring has brought me
to another level so profound.

You're the spitting image everyone sees,
but no one can pinpoint who it might be.
That's not a sign to leave me all alone
because I can't fight off this storm.

You say hold on tightly
as my feet lift off the ground.
Inspiring has brought me
to another level so profound.
